Job Summary

Moris Media is currently hiring for Artist Manager/Celebrity Manager in Iran. This job may require you to manage the professional journey of a high-profile public figure with precision, discretion, and a results-driven mindset. As the appointed Artist Manager, you will become the central point of coordination between the artist, internal teams, brand partners, media professionals, and key stakeholders. The role demands proactive scheduling, brand alignment, and real-time decision-making to ensure that every commitment the artist undertakes is strategically managed and successfully executed.

You will be responsible for overseeing the artist's entire work calendar—from meetings, photoshoots, and endorsements to media appearances, public events, and travel coordination. Your work will directly influence how the artist's public image is shaped, protected, and elevated across both traditional and digital platforms. You will coordinate with PR, marketing, legal, and campaign teams to streamline all brand collaborations, negotiate contracts, approve public content, and ensure timely deliverables that reflect the artist's standards and vision.

This role is high-stakes and demands absolute professionalism, confidentiality, and the ability to function effectively under pressure. It is not confined to standard work hours; instead, it revolves around the unpredictable and dynamic nature of the entertainment and influencer industry. Your success will be defined by your ability to bring structure to creative chaos, act with integrity, and serve as a dependable extension of the artist's brand.

Primary Responsibilities

1. Proxy Representation

- Act as the official proxy of the celebrity, making decisions and managing engagements on their behalf with professionalism and discretion.

2. Central Coordination

3. Schedule Management

- Organize and maintain the artist's complete work calendar, including meetings, shoots, events, and interviews.

4. Travel & Logistics

- Handle all domestic and international travel arrangements, ensuring seamless execution of commitments.

5. Strategic Representation

- Represent the artist in brand meetings, production discussions, and other business forums when their direct presence isn't possible.

6. Media & PR Alignment

- Collaborate with PR and marketing teams to build and maintain a cohesive public image aligned with the artist's career objectives.

7. Endorsement Oversight

- Evaluate, plan, and manage brand endorsement deals to align with the artist's identity and long-term value.

8. Contract Negotiation

- Review, negotiate, and finalize contracts while ensuring legal, financial, and brand interests are safeguarded.

9. Content Approval

- Approve public-facing content across social media, press releases, and marketing collateral in line with the artist's standards.

10. Reputation Management

- Monitor media coverage and public sentiment, taking proactive steps to protect and enhance the artist's reputation.

11. Relationship Building

- Develop and sustain relationships with brands, agencies, and media professionals to create future opportunities.

12. Confidentiality Assurance

- Maintain strict confidentiality across all sensitive and private information related to the artist.

13. Industry Intelligence

- Stay informed about entertainment industry trends, upcoming opportunities, and market shifts relevant to the artist's growth.

14. Crisis & Change Management

- Respond quickly and efficiently to urgent scheduling changes, conflicts, or crisis situations on behalf of the artist.

15. Brand Integrity Leadership

- Operate with the artist's vision and values in mind, ensuring all decisions and actions reflect their professional brand identity.

Required Skills

- Strong verbal and written communication skills with high emotional intelligence.
- Excellent interpersonal abilities to manage diverse stakeholders and public interactions.

- Extroverted personality capable of confidently representing the artist in high-pressure environments.
- Strong organizational and time management skills to handle complex, multi-layered schedules.
- Ability to make real-time decisions in fast-paced, unpredictable scenarios.
- Technological proficiency in scheduling tools, CRM platforms, and communication software.
- Discretion in handling confidential information with professionalism and integrity.

- Adaptable mindset to work beyond standard hours and thrive in a non-corporate, media-driven environment.

- Demonstrated history of managing client relationships, schedules, and brand communications.
- Experience coordinating with multiple departments—marketing, PR, legal, and production—for high-profile engagements.
- Must be open to frequent travel and willing to be available during irregular hours or urgent assignments.
